Python Programming @ The department of Computer Science

Geographic Distance Calculation

Requirements

Design and implement a Python program that determines the geographical distance between two points located on a geographic plane. The points are referenced using the standard {X,Y} Cartesian coordinate system founded on a 0 origin (see Figure). Your solution should import the given `pythagoras.py` module.